

Character Traits

You need to review types of characterization, particularly the "D" (what a character Does) in SODA.

Montessor

Character Trait

Line proving he has that trait with an "embedded quote"

Another line proving he has that trait with another "embedded quote"

Second Character Trait

Line proving he has that trait with an "embedded quote"

Another line proving he has that trait with another "embedded quote"

Fortunato

Character Trait

Line proving he has that trait with an "embedded quote"

Another line proving he has that trait with another "embedded quote"

Second Character Trait

Line proving he has that trait with an "embedded quote"

Another line proving he has that trait with another "embedded quote"

Add a graphic to make the paper pretty

You may only use a standard size paper (8½ by 11)

Sample:

Wolfgang

Sympathetic
He wants to help the girl and even "supported her faltering steps."

When he thinks the girl is alone and afraid he offers to pledge himself to her "forever."

Pathetic
He is "too shy and ignorant of the world" to even talk to a girl, which is just sad.

The author describes him as "haggard and desponding."

Look at how a small phrase from the story is put inside the sentence! The phrase from the story is highlighted in this sample, but you don't need to highlight in your work.